

Frederick L. Cottrell, III
Director
302-651-7509
Cottrell@rlf.com

March 16, 2009

VIA ELECTRONIC FILING AND HAND DELIVERY

The Honorable Vincent J. Poppiti
Blank Rome LLP
Chase Manhattan Centre
1201 Market Street, Suite 800
Wilmington, DE 19801

Re: Advanced Micro Devices, Inc., et al. v. Intel Corporation, et al., C.A. 05-441-JJF; C.A. 05-485-JJF; MDL No. 05-1717-JJF

Dear Special Master Poppiti:

The parties provide this joint report pursuant to Amended Case Management Order No. 6, dated June 20, 2008, which requires within fifteen days of the end of every second month that the parties “jointly report on the number of hours of depositions each has expended during the preceding two months and any issues relating to the progress of the depositions, or any other issues, that have arisen in connection with the depositions.”

Number of Hours of Depositions Expended by Each Side

During the preceding two months, January and February, the parties expended the following numbers of hours:

For depositions taken in January, Intel 95.75 hours, AMD and Class 86.75 hours.

For depositions taken in February for which the parties have final transcripts, Intel 75.25 hours, AMD and Class 79.25 hours. There were ten additional depositions taken in the last week of February for which the parties are not yet able to provide firm numbers for the hours used in those depositions because they have only rough transcripts. Based on the rough transcripts, however, the parties estimate that they used the following numbers of hours in those ten depositions: Intel 22.25, AMD and Class 66.5.

Thus, the estimated totals for the two months are, Intel 193.25 hours, AMD and Class 232.5 hours. The estimated cumulative total numbers of hours the parties have used since the Court adopted Amended Case Management Order No. 6 through the end of February are: Intel – 350.75 hours, AMD and Class – 491.25 hours.

The Honorable Vincent J. Poppiti
March 16, 2009
Page 2

Other Issues in Connection with Depositions

Other than matters that have already been brought to Your Honor's attention, including the parties' recent joint request for additional time to conduct depositions, there are no new issues relating to the progress of the depositions or any other issues that have arisen in connection with the depositions that the parties believe presently require Your Honor's attention.

Respectfully,

/s/ Frederick L. Cottrell, III

Frederick L. Cottrell, III (#2555)

FLC,III/afg

cc: Clerk of the Court
Richard L. Horwitz, Esquire (w/e) (By Hand and Electronic Mail)
James L. Holzman, Esquire (w/e) (By Hand and Electronic Mail)